

Radiologist/Nuclear Medicine Physician

Victoria, BC

The Division of Medical Imaging in the Department of Laboratory and Imaging Medicine of Island Health is seeking a Radiologist/Nuclear Medicine physician to serve the Victoria area.

Eligible candidates must hold Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada certification in both Radiology and Nuclear Medicine and be eligible for full licensure with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of BC. Preference will be given to candidates with experience in PET CT.

The successful candidate will practice in a wide range of Radiology, including CT, MR, Ultrasound, general Radiography and Fluoroscopy, and bring Nuclear Medicine expertise to a group of over 20 radiologists, with a wide variety of subspecialty interests. Participation in Breast Imaging and Interventional Radiology is not a requirement for this position, although as part of general duties the successful candidate will be expected to perform minor interventional procedures, including biopsies and drainages.

The group provides all of the imaging services from general to tertiary level to the South Vancouver Island portion of Island Health including the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria General Hospital, Saanich Peninsula Hospital, Lady Minto Hospital and an outpatient Ultrasound clinic.

The position includes participation in a full call schedule giving 24 hour services, participation in resident teaching through the UBC Department of Radiology, and medical student teaching through the UBC Island Medical Program.

Perched on the southern-most tip, Victoria is Vancouver Island's largest city and is in close proximity to Vancouver and Seattle. Renowned for its breathtaking natural beauty and enviable quality of life, Victoria provides the opportunity to combine a rewarding career and a lifestyle second-to none.

Strong public schools are complemented by multiple renowned private schools in and adjacent to Victoria. With our temperate climate, rich heritage and vibrant cultural scene, Victoria provides the very best of urban and rural living.
